

U.S. PLANES DEFENDING MOSCOW APPROACHES

Gen. Stillwell Safe; Wants Men, Guns To Get Burma Back

"We Got Run Out of Burma", Says "Vinegar Joe" Who Wants To Find Out Why. Then Go Back And Re-Take It

When an American was sent as chief of staff to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, the logical choice was Chinese-speaking Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell. "One word, 'tough,' best describes 59-year-old, stubby, eagle-nosed 'Vinegar Joe' whose hair and talk are both close-cropped.

When Stilwell and his staff reached Burma last February he called the situation there "a hell of a tough spot." How tough it was he can tell fully only now.

By WILLIAM McGAFFIN

NEW DELHI, India, May 25.—Still full of fight after a "hell of a beating" in Burma and a weary march of 140 miles through wild Burmese jungles, Lieut. Gen. Joseph Stilwell declared today that Burma can be—and must be—retaken from the Japanese.

The American came out of Burma the hard way. He refused a lift from a United States army plane because he still had a job to do.

When it became clear that withdrawal was the only course, he and a group of soldiers and native nurses started from Wundwin May 4. They made more than half of the 20-day journey afoot, hidden from aerial searches by lush tropical forests while their food supplies dwindled. General Stilwell flew here on the last leg.

He said he regarded Burma as a vitally important area for re-entry into China, now blocked from the Burma road supply route. After conferring with General Sir Archibald P. Wavell, British commander-in-chief in India, he is going back to China to talk to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Here, in his own salty words, is what happened to the Allies in Burma:

"I claim we got a hell of a beating. We got run out of Burma and it is humiliating as hell. I think we ought to find out what caused it, go back and re-take it."

"The Japanese are not supermen," said Stilwell, who is Chiang's chief of staff and commander-in-chief of American forces in Burma, India and China.

"If we go back properly proportioned and properly equipped we can throw them out."

The story of the Burma battle, as Stilwell put it, was one of out-numbered forces fighting the best they had against a foe with more equipment as well as more men. Still, he thought, the scales could have been tipped with "just a little more strength."

Says Japs Are Tough

He said the Japanese were tough, well-trained, well-equipped and used about 40,000 or 50,000 combat troops who didn't care whether they survived or not.

"When you're fighting such an outfit," he added, "you need something more than a piece-meal, rag-tag, bob-tail affair."

One of the things that hurt worst was the Japanese air superiority.

STUDY PLANS TO CLASSIFY FAMILY MEN

Would Be Called Up After Those Without Dependents Have Gone

OLDER MEN'S STATUS WOULD BE CLEARED

Relationships and Economic Situation Principal Factors

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, May 25.—Congress considered today proposals to give President Roosevelt broad authority to revamp the selective service system by classifying family men into groups who would be called for army duty only after the rolls of those without dependents had been exhausted.

Explaining that the selective service hoped to set up general classifications based on family relationship and economic dependency, Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) predicted that the senate military affairs committee would amend a pending family allowance bill to tomorrow to vest such authority in the President.

Linked with reports that an effort soon would be made to make men of 19 and 20 subject to the draft, legislation of this nature was expected to clear up the status of older men and those with dependents who now are subject to induction at the discretion of local boards.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), who proposed that specific classifications be written into the family allowance bill, said he would be satisfied with an amendment authorizing the President to issue regulations classifying men according to age groups, family status, date of marriage and dependency.

Taft previously suggested seven classifications be set up under which young men without dependents automatically would be taken into the army first and older men with several children would be the last to go, but Johnson said selective service officials opposed any rigid classification.

Taft told reporters there had been wide-spread complaints from family men who wanted to know if they were going to be taken into the army so they could make plans to care for their dependents. Johnson agreed that this situation was troublesome and expressed the opinion that clarifying rules ought to be made.

He said it was his opinion that, if given the authority, selective service would make general regula-

COLUMBIANA HIGH WILL GRADUATE 38

Baldwin Wallace President Speaks at Exercises Wednesday

COLUMBIANA, May 25.—A class of 38 students will receive diplomas at the 61st annual commencement at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the school auditorium.

The address will be given by Dr. Louis Wright, president of Baldwin-Wallace college, Berea.

The class roll includes Dorothy Allen, Bessie Bowman, William Childers, Fred Drotelf, Elizabeth Duff, Betty Mae Evans, Richard Firestone, James Fitzpatrick, Thomas Gorchett.

Harold Hall, Eugene Haney, Delmar Harrold, Elizabeth Harrold, Helen Mae Hetrick, William Holinger, Esther Householder, Effie Irons, Warren Laughlin, Keith Poulton, Ellen Leshar, Lelia McCarty, Warren McKendzie, Charles Mollenkopf, Oma Moore, Jean Myers, June Oeherman, Gladys Peppel, Betty Pittman.

Norman Pregner, Lella Reesh, Arlene Riggie, Clyde Richardson, Ralph Rohrer, Virginia Snauffer, Sara Todd, Richard Uesilton, Robert Ward and LaNorma Zimmerman.

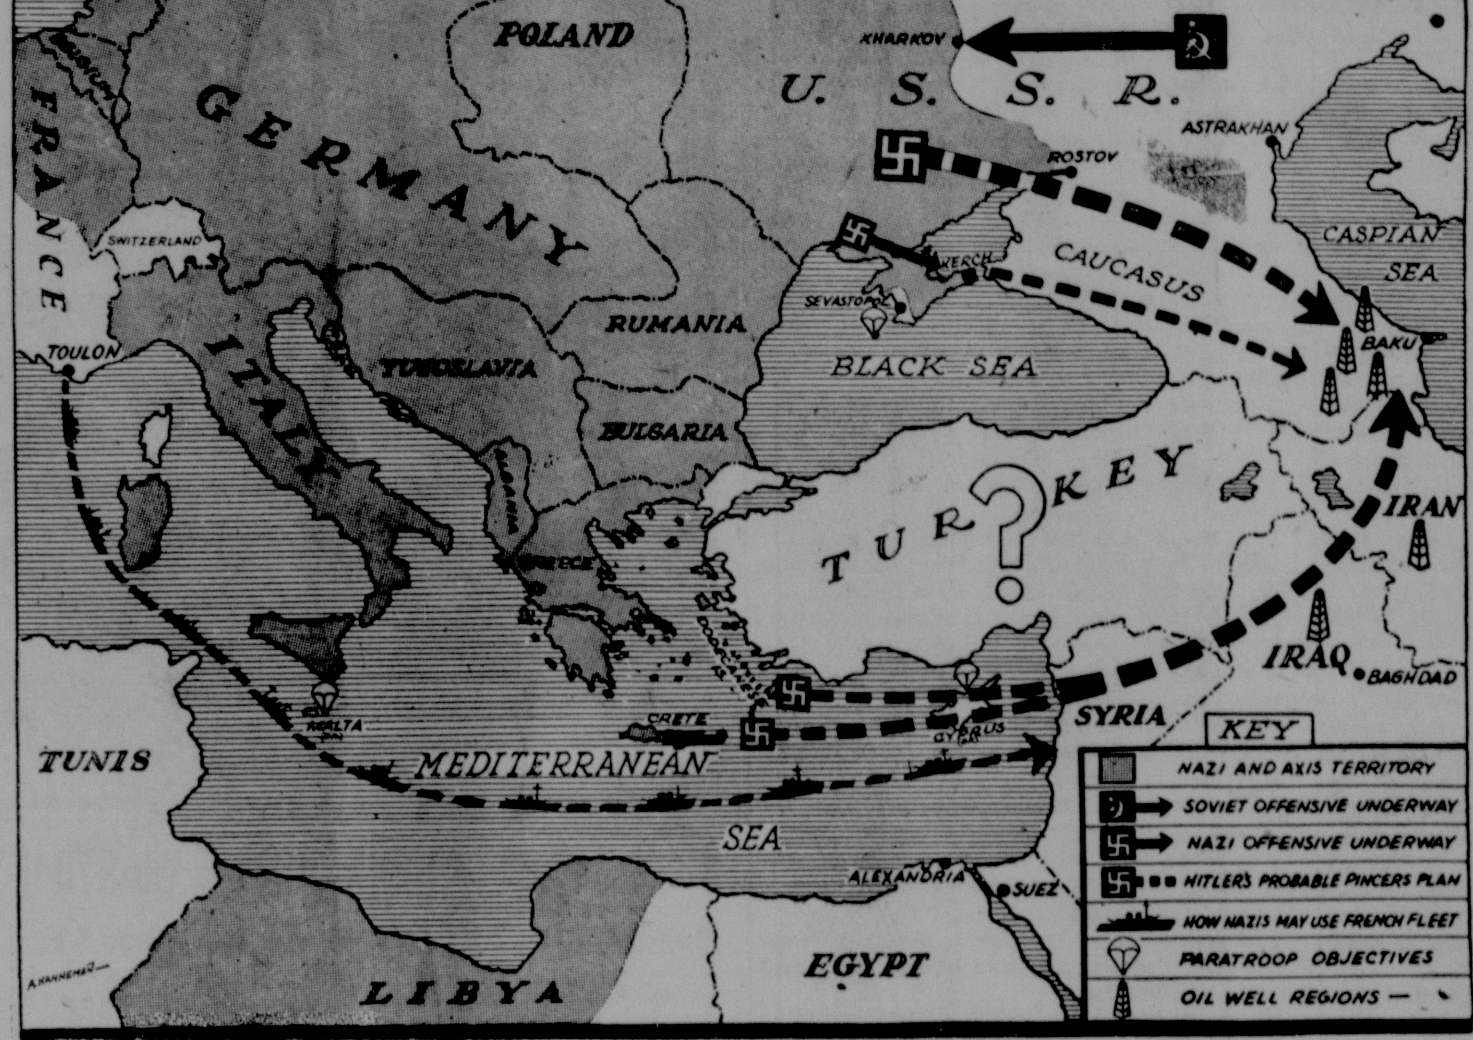

Baccalaureate service was held Sunday evening in the Grade Reform church. The sermon was given by Rev. Paul H. Wood of the Methodist church. Special music was presented by a union choir under the direction of Claire King. The graduates were dressed in royal blue caps and gowns.

New Uniforms Donned By Firemen at Alliance

ALLIANCE, May 25.—The war added a touch of color to the Alliance fire department today.

Swinging into summer uniform, the city's fire fighters reported for duty in gray gabardine shirts and trousers, breaking a precedent of many years' standing. The traditional blue serge is no longer available. Fire Chief, J. E. Held explained.

HITLER'S LAST "ACE-IN-THE-HOLE": A PINCHER DRIVE ON BAKU

Unless the reverses suffered at Kharkov upset the plans of the German high command, Adolf Hitler is expected to embark upon one of the most ambitious ventures in military history. His objective will be Baku and its rich oil fields which produce one-tenth of the world's supply. This map shows the directions his drive will take, according to competent military experts.

LARGE DRAFT GROUP LEAVES

Boosters Announce Plan to Provide "Treat" For Selectees

Salem Booster club members have taken it upon themselves to see that departing Salem district draftees receive an appropriate "send-off" in the future.

After the city's largest contingent to date almost missed out on the customary treat of cigars and candy when they left this morning, the Booster club immediately launched plans for future farewells.

The organization, whose original purpose is to boost high school athletic programs, announced that it would accept contributions—large or small—to help finance the "send-offs" for the Salem boys who are called to serve their country at war.

J. M. Kelley is president of the Boosters club. Arthur S. Brian is treasurer.

In the past army calls here, New Testament candy and cigars have been distributed among the departing draftees. This morning, however, only the Bibles were issued until a woman onlooker, quick to note the change in policy, dug into her own pocketbook to purchase "smokes" for the men.

A large crowd of relatives and friends was on hand this morning when the draftees boarded two buses which took them to an army induction center. Names of those accepted will be released within a few days, draft board officials explained.

Music was provided by the uniformed Salem High school band, which, accompanied by majorettes, marched through town as the buses pulled away. State highway patrolmen led the way.

All draftees affected by today's call showed up except one man who had been summoned from New York.

ASSEMBLY PLANNED BY HIGH STUDENTS

Dedication of the Salem High school Quaker annual will be made at an assembly in the High school auditorium Friday morning. The name of the dedicatee will be made known at that time.

Announcement of winners in the Brooks literary contest will be made at a High school assembly program tomorrow morning.

Prizes are to be awarded for first, second and third place in poetry, short story, orations and poetry divisions. The orations and poems will be recited tomorrow before the student body.

Teachers' Pay Boosted

ALLIANCE, May 25.—Employees of the public school system, from principals to janitors, will share a flat increase in salary, starting with the new term. The increase will add $20,000 annually to the school payroll and was made possible by the recent approval by the voters of a special one-mill levy.

Pay Strike Stalls Trolley Cars In Cleveland West Side

City Transit Workers Walk Out, Protesting Failure To Get Their Pay Checks On Time

(By Associated Press) CLEVELAND, May 25.—Street car traffic on Cleveland's west side was halted for more than an hour today by a walkout of city transit employees protesting against their failure to get pay checks on time from the city treasury.

Dozens of street cars and buses were stopped, and other cars piled up behind them.

Mayor Frank J. Lausche ordered the arrest of agitators he said were responsible for the stoppage, and shortly before noon transit officials said normal operations had been resumed.

The tieup came as many clerks were starting downtown for the

13 COUNTY LAWYERS NOW IN U. S. SERVICE

Attorney Max Caplan of Salem Leaves With Tent's Group For Induction Into Army

With the departure of Atty. Max Caplan for army service this morning, 13 of the 75 active lawyers in Columbiana county now are in the service.

That was revealed by Atty. L. B. Harris of Salem, president of the Columbiana County Bar association, at a dinner at noon Saturday in the Lape knoty pine room, given as a farewell honor to Atty. Caplan.

Caplan's brother, Dr. Nathan Caplan, and John Taylor Jr., two other draftees who left today, also were honored at the bar dinner Saturday.

Talks were given by Judges Joel H. Sharp of Salem and Homer W. Hammond of Columbiana, and Atty. Harrison L. McCarthy of Lisbon. Others who responded when Toastmaster Harris called on them were Atty. John Bauknecht of East Palestine; Atty. Lozier Caplan, brother of the two draftees; John Taylor, Sr., Mayor R. R. Johnson, Ralph Hawley, Police Chief Ralph Stoffer, I. Walken and County Engineer Charles Snyder, all of Salem.

Clerk of Courts John Coleman led in group singing, with Mrs. Ruth Berry of Salem as accompanist.

STATE ST. PAVING TO BE LET JUNE 2

State highway department officials notified Mayor R. R. Johnson today that the E. State st. paving project would be up for letting on Tuesday, June 2.

The notification came from Sherman S. Price, assistant right-of-way engineer at the divisional office at New Philadelphia.

The $6,000 project, which calls for the resurfacing of downtown E. State st. between Ellsworth and Lincoln avenues, will entail only an expenditure of $1,000 on the city's part. City council has already approved the job and has allocated its share of expense.

REDS SNAP OFF GERMAN WEDGE

Timoshenko's Renewed Offensive Gains Further Ground

(By Associated Press) MOSCOW, May 25.—Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's renewed offensive against bitterly-contested Kharkov has gained further ground, driving the Germans from another important center of resistance, front line dispatches from the Ukraine reported today.

One wedge which the Germans hammered into the Red army's Kharkov salient "at the cost of enormous losses" was wiped out in the new Soviet onset, a communique declared.

Battlefront reports said previously occupied positions were being strengthened constantly. German counter-attacks repulsed, and a stubborn defense maintained against the Nazi flanking counter-offensive in the Izum-Barvenkova sector to the south.

Observers here said the battle appeared to have settled into an exchange of savage blows resembling a slugging match with no sign yet of decisive change.

The mid-day Soviet information bureau communique said Russian counter-attacks pinched off the wedge with heavy enemy losses.

"During the night of May 24-25," it summarized the trend in the battle, now in its 14th day, "in the Kharkov direction our troops entrenched themselves in occupied positions and continued offensive operations."

Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, reported from the Kharkov front that several populated places, including an important fortified center, had been taken by the Red army during the past 24 hours.

All Washington signposts pointed today to a steady tightening up in rail, bus, plane and ship services, with hard and fast priorities on freight movement and almost inevitable rationing of passenger space.

On Wednesday, the Office of Defense Transportation will make a spot check of freight loadings in every station on the nation's railroads. The data obtained will furnish the basic information enabling ODT to determine how efficiently transportation facilities are being utilized.

A week-long check of railroad passenger traffic in 100 key cities will end Thursday midnight, laying groundwork for space rationing.

Effective June 1, no export goods can clear United States ports or

MISS CIBULA WINS ORATORY CONTEST

Miss Betty Cibula of Salem won the Luther League Declamation contest held at Greenford Lutheran church last evening.

The subject of her declamation was, "More than Conquerors."

The next contest will be held in St. Luke's church in Youngstown. The winners of this contest will compete in the state contest to be held at Lakeside July 18. The winner of the state event will be given a tuition scholarship to Wittenberg college.

RED FIGHTERS ASK FOR MORE YANKEE SHIPS

Airacobras, Kittyhawks, Tomahawks Being Used On Soviet Front

"COBRAS" ARE RATED WITH BEST OF THEM

Ships Now Being Flown To Battlefields, Maker Reveals

BY HENRY C. CASSIDY 4 Associated Press Correspondent WITH THE RED AIR FORCE ON THE CENTRAL RUSSIAN FRONT, May 25.—A crack Russian pursuit squadron defending the approaches of Moscow is flying American-made planes exclusively—and calling for more.

This squadron, containing some of the best Soviet pilots, has downed 86 enemy aircraft since the start of the war, 29 of them with American planes.

There are three types of American pursuit planes now fighting on the Russian front—the (Bell) Airacobras and the (Curtiss) Kittyhawk and Tomahawk.

I saw them in service at an air-drome defending Moscow's approaches.

The fliers said the Airacobras, which they call Cobras, had proved their worth among the best planes fighting for Russia, especially in low-altitude combat, while Kittyhawks and Tomahawks followed in that order in their preference.

Pilots asserted that the Airacobras had outfought every German plane except a new high-altitude fighter, the Heinkel 113, which the Germans use rarely.

Fliers assigned to the American planes included Captain Evgeni Mikhailovich Gorbatsyuk, 26, who was awarded Russia's highest honor, that of Hero of the Soviet Union, for gallantry and heroism in air duels.

Fly To Battlefields

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 25.—The planes that are doing Uncle Sam's fighting job against Axis aviators, the Bell Aircraft Airacobras, are being flown to their fighting fields, President Lawrence D. Bell disclosed today.

Speedy, maneuverable and more heavily armored than any other pursuit fighter ship, these planes now are going directly to their own stations in many parts of the world, he said. Special equipment allows them to make the long hops.

Previously they were transported by ships.

EASTERN FLOODS TAKE LARGE TOLL

Twenty-Six Known Dead; Damage Will Hit Millions of Dollars

(By Associated Press) HONESDALE, Pa., May 25.—Confronted with the threat of disease, every able bodied person in this devastated town was enlisted today in the task of removing debris of weekend flash floods that took 26 lives in eastern Pennsylvania and left 10 others missing and feared dead.

Receding waters brought to light property damage running into the millions of dollars in the watersheds of the Lackawanna, Lehigh, Schuylkill and Delaware rivers. In Honesdale alone the loss was unofficially estimated at between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000.

More than 30 homeless families still were being fed and cared for by the Red Cross today in this resort town of 5,697, hardest hit of any in the flooded area. Seventeen persons perished here and in the nearby Wayne county communities of Hawley and White Mills.

Tons of chloride of lime were spread in mud-lined cellars. State Sanitation experts checked drinking water.

Rivers and tributaries, fed by torrential rains, surged over their banks early Saturday.

Homes and automobiles were washed away, gas and electric service was shut off. Traffic was paralyzed. War plants were damaged. Buildings were twisted on their foundations. Hundreds were marooned on the second floors of their homes. Several small communities were isolated.

The flood hit such industrial cities as Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Pottstown, Scranton, Hazleton and Wilkes-Barre. Damage to plants alone was estimated in the millions.

The Bethlehem Steel company plant at Bethlehem was disabled, but a spokesman said work would be resumed in full today or tomorrow.

ANNUAL EVENT OF MAJOR IMPORTANCE

Pending outcome of conference committee negotiations on differences in their proposals for doing the job, the senate and house of representatives again have saved the American farmer. This is an annual event of major importance, like Thanksgiving.

The whole thing in recent years has been bottled down to capsule size; it is beautiful in its simplicity. A few predatory legislators, in the name of economy, try to whittle down the amount of money the government proposes to give away to farmers. With a cry of rage, led by members of the farm bloc, all the other legislators go to work on the spoilers and beat out their brains in debate. The upshot of it all is that the amount of money the government proposed to give away in the first place is increased—and that is how the farmer gets saved.

This year, farmers will get something more than $650,000,000 in cash and in the neighborhood of $185,000,000 in loans, in addition to the customary goodwill that goes with all congressional approaches to the farm problem.

SYMBOLIC KHARKOV

If it be true that the long-awaited Nazi spring offensive was prepared for Great Britain, instead of Russia—a minority opinion of a few analysts—the battle of Kharkov may be decisive. Invasion of the British Isles could be undertaken only on the assumption that the eastern front could be "stabilized." Kharkov, therefore, would have to be held. A successful Russian offensive at that point would upset the whole plan of holding the eastern front in status quo and launching an attack in the west.

It would do something even more important than that. As Lieut. Col. W. F. Kernan makes plain in his last treatise on offensive war called "Defense Will Not Win The War," Adolf Hitler's secret has been the seizure of the initiative. Everything he has done has been in the furtherance of that vital policy—even his purge of German generals. Once robbed of the initiative, he is through.

Defeat at Kharkov wouldn't mean quick death to Nazi aggression, but it would advertise to the whole world, including the Germans at home, that things were as serious on the Russian front as they have appeared to be from time to time since the German offensive was changed into retreat last November.

RATIONING IS NOT CONVENIENT

Office of price administration's order favoring sugar users who want extra rations for home canning suggests there may be more flexibility in sugar rationing than appeared at first. Nevertheless, it is a mistake to expect enough flexibility to make any rationing plan convenient.

One distinctly inconvenient aspect of sugar rationing, for instance, is the extreme penalty placed on home baking, for which no allowance has been made. Households coddled on home-baked pies, cookies and cakes have been left without solace under the rationing plan.

They can complain, with justice, that they have been penalized in comparison with households that prefer to buy their baked goods. But unfortunately, they cannot explain how it would be possible for the government to ration sugar and still make exceptions for home baking. Overnight, it is reasonable to assume, millions of home bakers would bob up where only yesterday the bakery wagon stopped every morning. Rationing can work wonders, but no one ever claimed it can be made convenient.

TOO MANY FALSE ALARMS

Apparently there's no other way to do it, but a plain ordinary taxpayer could wish for fewer false alarms about the taxes he is going to pay next year.

As far as he's concerned, a few truths about taxes are self-evident. First, like death, nothing can be done to take away the unpleasantness. Second, blood can't be squeezed out of turnips, so the taxpayer's ability to pay something excludes him from classification as a turnip. Third, the secret of successful taxation is to get as much money with as little fuss as possible.

On the third point, the taxpayer is strongly inclined to see merit in the proposal for withholding enough at the source of his income to pay his taxes. Hundreds of thousands of new income taxpayers this year—and hordes of old ones—are going through the frightening experience of paying last year's taxes out of this year's income. If the taxes they owe or March 15, 1943, were to be three times as much as they owed last March 15 and are paying in installments, they'd be in serious trouble.

On the theory that if they don't handle the money, they can't spend it, most taxpayers would be in favor of a withholding tax. Meanwhile, they're heartily in favor of fewer scare stories about next year's taxes. They'll be bad enough next year without anticipating them every time a congressman or a congressional committee or a treasury official wants to get some more publicity.

GERMANY'S CRACKUP

Official discouragements against expecting Germany to crumble from within are being issued, but the most reliable light on the subject is shed by Germany's World War record.

The record shows that Germany went to piece when its people finally became convinced that the were going to lose the war, in spite of having won most of the battles. The crumbling when it happened was so complete that Adolf Hitler successfully claimed the German army had to give up the fight in 1918 because of the collapse of morale at home.

When things began to go to pieces, moreover, they went completely to pieces. The world-famous discipline dissolved, even in the armed forces. Soldiers deserted to the enemy, sailors mutinied. Food riots were common. But it didn't happen until the Germans, themselves, as distinct from their officials, realized that no matter how long they sacrificed and died they weren't going to have the cherished privilege of planting their feet on civilization's neck.

THE STARS SAY:

For Tuesday, May 26

A MILDLY adverse situation may be presaged for this day on the basis of current lunar transits, which not only have a retarding, restricting and surprising influence on affairs generally but also discouraging initiative and enterprise. It is probable that any worthwhile plans or major projects will not make much headway and may be defeated entirely by rash, impetuous, quarrelsome and ill-timed actions.

Those whose birthday it is may best assure a happy, profitable and productive year by an exercise of restraint, moderation and temperance in all their actions and contacts, whether business, social, affectional, or financial. It might be hazardous or disagreeable to attempt to start new enterprises or to push issues by main force in any direction.

A child born on this day may be willful, wayward, reckless and impulsive although it may have great energy and initiative.

THE PROBLEM OF SHIPPING

By FRED VANDERSCHMIDT

Wide World War Analyst

The main reason that talk about a short war has a hollow ring is the gravity of the situation at sea, all around our own shores, where the axis submarines, with sinister exultation, are still sinking many American ships.

We cannot win this war without fighting it many hundreds of miles away; we cannot fight it without he ships to carry men, tanks, guns, supplies and some of the planes.

In great measure these ships, for both our allies and ourselves, must come from the United States, and we are building them on a scale never known before, but the axis is also sinking ships in a fashion we are hardly prepared to expect.

Americans know this is true; it is making some important changes in their lives, and will make a real many more. For various reasons, however, they are not getting enough information to realize the effect the present axis submarine campaign is having on the day-to-day fighting on every front, from Jarkov to free China, and on the long-range preparation of the great offensives which must win the war for the United Nations.

The fact that a ship or ships are sunk, the number of men lost or missing, the number of survivors, are announced from day to day; very little more, lest the enemy be told something he does not know.

"THE LEADING LADY"

NERVES FACE DANGER DURING WARTIME

Human System May Go to Pieces In Various Ways

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

ALL THE BOOKS and medical articles which come out of England on the subject of the diseases of the civil population in war time stress the fact that the greatest danger is to the nervous system. "The war of nerves" is a very accurate designation of the situation.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

It is possible for the nervous system to go to pieces in various ways as a result of the stresses of war events. Of course, a person may have a nervous system perfectly well geared to handle the average, ordinary tasks. Yet some may go entirely to pieces if some extraneous event is precipitated into the routine. If this extraneous event should be something so sudden and drastic as a bomb bursting in front of the house and tearing away the front of the house, or the sudden news of the death of a son in service, it is not surprising that it might make a mental derelict of the person permanently.

Mental Dereliction

What is the nature of this mental dereliction? One thing is that the individual may withdraw into himself and divorce the outside world from his consciousness and lapse into a state of inarticulateness or melancholia, or in the case of young people, the condition known as dementia praecox.

Another natural thing is for them to try to forget the event, and in doing so, they may by a process of suggestion, forget something else which is a part of themselves. This is the condition which is known as hysteria. The best definition I have heard of the pathological condition of a patient with hysteria is that it is a form of loss of memory. One of the major symptoms of hysteria is the divided personality.

These Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde individuals are not at all a product of Stevenson's imagination. There are plenty of real examples in which an individual has a split personality so that some time he is Mr. A and other times he is Mr. B. It does not necessarily follow that, as in the cases of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, one personality is all good and one personality is all bad, but that while he is Mr. A he forgets all about Mr. B. Sometimes, curiously enough, when A finds that his bank account is overdrawn, he says perfectly rationally, "B did that," as if he were talking about an entirely different person.

Symptoms of Hysteria

All the symptoms of hysteria, such as constriction of the visual fields, the paralysis and the tannums can be explained on the basis of a form of forgetfulness. For instance, one symptom of hysteria is numbness. Now, of course, numbness or anesthesia may occur to the skin due to an injury to a nerve, but anesthesia of the hand, if due to a nerve injury, involves only three and one-half fingers on one side or one and one-half fingers on the other side and the anesthesia extends up the arm.

Hysterical anesthesia of the hand does not follow this pattern, but the anesthesia stops in a definite ring around the wrist. The hysterical person has forgotten the mental concept of the hand. Differential diagnosis between organic and functional disease can be made in this way.

If a person says to you, "You have forgotten yourself," he really is saying, "You are hysterical," and it may happen in war time.

Answer: It is not possible to dissolve either a large or a small gall stone.

J. S.:—What fruit juices are advisable to drink for one that has gall bladder trouble and arthritis in the hands. I was advised to cook grape fruit rinds and drink the juice.

Answer: Any fruit juices are good for both these conditions. I certainly do not advise grape fruit rinds.

however, as the rind has very little nutritive value compared to the inside of the fruit.

K. S.:—What are shingles? Are they dangerous? Are they contagious? What is the treatment? Can you completely get rid of them? What are they caused from?

Answer: Shingles are due to an infection of the ganglia of the nerves and cause an eruption on the skin in the area which the nerve involved supplies. They are very painful. They occur mostly in elderly people. They are not dangerous or contagious. The best treatment is by X-ray over the ganglion involved. One attack protects from recurrence for life.

CRIME AT CASTAWAY

by EDITH BRISTOL

SYNOPSIS
Desperately in need of work, Gerry Lane becomes secretary to Walter Gregg, wealthy owner of Castaway Ranch, despite the warnings of her predecessor that the people there are queer. Arriving at Castaway, she meets Estelle Gregg, contractor's wife, a sophisticated, bleach-blond; Sydney Lof, Estelle's cynical son; Martha, Gregg's middle-aged sister, who manages the household and breeds horses; Harry Craven, Gregg's business manager, a dapper, mouse-eyed individual with piercing black eyes; and Lance Gregg, the contractor's brooding, sturdy nephew. Gregg's employer is recuperating from an automobile accident and is already retired. At dinner, Gregg mentions that someone is in the cabin at Hidden Cove, and everyone is obviously upset by the news. A sense of foreboding engulfs Gerry. Who was the unknown guest? Next morning, Gregg's Walter Gregg and instantly this strong, unhappy man, obviously feared someone or something. He cautions her that his personal servant, Kobe, leaving his key to the key given to him for the day, Gregg asks Gerry to finish the Durfee file first. She starts from it that Worth Durfee had lost a court case to Gregg over a boundary. Later, Durfee had "accidentally" sent Gregg's car hurtling over a cliff, seriously injuring the contractor. The latter won $50,000 damage suit. The case is under appeal and Durfee is trying to have Gregg accept a compromise cash settlement. A strange woman slips in through the window of the study. She says she has a message from Mr. Gregg from Miss Dawson at Hidden Cove. Gerry goes to summon Martha and when she returns the woman and a picture of Gregg, which hung over the file, have disappeared. Martha discounts the incident, adding that she has a duplicate photo, and no one need know anything about the theft. She says the mysterious woman is Isabelle Hunt, maid for Pauline Dawson, Gregg's divorced wife, who arrived the day before at the nearby Hidden Cove cottage, much to the chagrin of the entire Castaway household. The eccentric Pauline had squandered a substantial settlement and Gregg still supports her. Craven, Gerry and Martha are at dinner that night. Estelle and Sydney have gone to San Francisco. Gerry divines that Martha distrusts the suave Craven.

CHAPTER SIX
The evening had turned cooler and the snap and sparkle of the open fire in the living room was welcome after dinner. Domino, the spotted coach dog, stretched luxuriously before the hearth, and the panics only left its warmth to trot the heels of their mistress when she left the room.
Craven looked at me sharply and moved beside me on theavenport and I remembered what Miss Baldwin had said—"one of them bore holes in you with his eyes." But he could be winning and flattering when he wanted to and he had now he wanted to.
"I'm glad to hear you like your work at Castaway," he began.
"I only hope Mr. Gregg will like my work as well as I like the place," I smiled back.
"I'm sure he will. The instant I saw you last night I knew you were the secretary for him. He needs somebody to protect him from annoyance. That's what I try to do in the business. Miss Gregg is here at the ranch. He's had enough shock in that accident to kill any ordinary man. I try to take over the business worries without his knowing he's being protected. That's why I was so sorry to have him send to the Gallina office for records. I don't think he's strong enough yet, to stand the grind of the business."
"The business seems to spread over considerable territory," I suggested.
"I'm not quite clear, yet, where all the places are that are mentioned in the papers I've been reading."

"Don't wonder you're a bit confused," Craven smiled as he lit a cigarette. "Since the boss was hurt and I've been driving down here almost every day, I can hardly tell where we do business myself. We have offices in San Francisco—you'll have noticed that in your filing—but the big plant is in Gallina, twenty miles inland from here. The gravel beds and the quarry are over the hills to the south, on the Castaway property. The biggest job we've ever done is the Gallina Dam—it is about seventy miles in the mountains and we still keep a camp there. I'm in charge of all the cement mixing."
"It sounds like a tremendous piece of work," I volunteered.
"It's a whale of a job! I'll take you over to see it one of these days. It is one of our typical California water projects where they take a whole valley, block off one end with concrete, and make a lake out of it to store water for irrigation and electric power."
"I'm sure I shall learn a great deal from working for Mr. Gregg," I said.
"You're dead right! It's because I can tell the kind of girl you are and how much your work will help any man, that I'm going to ask you now to help me to help him. We both want to make things easier for him."
It was a good approach, a plausible lead for what was to follow. But before Craven could come to the point—and I felt that everything else he had said was merely a prelude to that point—Martha Gregg came back into the room. Conversation again became general until the evening waned and it was time for me to leave the fire-lit room for my own bungalow.
Craven walked with me to the door, held it open, stepped beside me across the open square of the patio where the rain-laden wind blew strong in our faces, and started up the slope of the garden.
"I'll see you safely to your cottage," he offered.
"It's only a step and I'm not at all afraid," I protested.
"I didn't have the chance to finish what I started to say," his voice was confidential and persuasive. "I'm sure you understand my only wish is to save Mr. Gregg from business worries. I know how it is. I started in at the bottom and came up the hard way, just as he did."
Not with those soft manicured hands, I thought, but said nothing. We reached the covered steps of the little bungalow and I waited for him to continue. The eucalyptus branches scraped over our heads and the wind whipped my hair into elf-locks around my face. The sound of the surf on the shore came through the damp darkness. Craven chose his words with care.
"I need to keep in touch with every detail of the business, but it's hard to follow everything that is going on. Therefore, I have thought of a way that will help me to take more problems off the boss' shoulders. And you can help me."
"You want to make things easier for Mr. Gregg, don't you? Craven's tones were all silky solicitude.
"Certainly."
"Now, look—you're a reasonable girl. You can look at all sides of a question."
"Mr. Craven," I looked straight into his eyes—as nearly straight as I could, for he shifted his gaze—the flare of his cigarette lighter showed me that much, "what are you asking me to do?"
"In ordinary circumstances what I'm asking would sound out of order—but these aren't ordinary circumstances. Here's a sick man trying to handle details of a business away from his plant. Here I am—trying to be two places at once. You can see for yourself that if I'm going to keep things going I've got to know everything that goes on here."
My redheaded temper was rising. "I'll listen, if you'll tell me what it is that you want. If not, I'll go—it's starting to rain."
"Here's what I want—and I'm prepared to pay you well for it. Any pretty girl like you can use

The committee named for the wiener roast is Donna Thompson, Wanda Brown and Betty Beckley. The lunch committee for the next Willing Workers meeting is Violet Krizon and Martha Board.
Miss Carrie Ruff has gone to Minerva to spend the summer with Mrs. Florence Pennock.

MEXICAN ARMY CHIEF?

Mr. Gregg answered and in his words there was a new note of iron that I hadn't heard before. "Estelle, we needn't go into that again. You're free to do whatever you want. Stay in town as long as you wish. Come back when you please. But I will not turn anybody away from Castaway who has no place else to go!"
The petulant words went on. Again I heard only part of them. "My friends.... coming down to use the cabin.... I have some rights.... deposit the money to my account...."
"Let's not talk about it, Estelle," Gregg broke in. "You know where I stand. The money will be in your account tomorrow morning. Good-by."

Columbiana Park Ready for Opening

COLUMBIANA, May 25.—Although Firestone park does not open officially until Saturday, Memorial day, the swimming pool will observe "Friday" on Friday. Park Manager C. F. Coppock states that all the usual park facilities are ready for the opening.

The pool has been redecorated in ocean green and arrangements are being made to have music at all times. New baby swings have been added to the children's playground facilities, and volleyball courts are another new park feature. Free swimming may be enjoyed each Tuesday and Thursday morning, while on Monday and Friday morning there will be swimming instruction. The Columbiana High school band will give a concert at the pool Saturday afternoon.

David Holloway, student at Curtiss-Wright Technical Institute, Glendale, Calif., underwent an operation for acute appendicitis Saturday afternoon, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Holloway, Cleveland road. Inspection of the Pythian Sisters lodge has been postponed from tonight until June 24. The regular meeting of the lodge, with degree practice, will be held Wednesday evening.

Mrs. T. B. Hyland and Mrs. Roy Buchner have returned from Columbus where they attended the national assembly of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church, held at Memorial hall. They attended a communion service at the Board street Methodist church conducted by Bishop Lester Smith. During their stay they were entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Williams. Mrs. Williams will be remembered as the former Mary Lodge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Lodge.

Mrs. C. P. Esterly will entertain members of Columbiana Mothers club at her home this evening at 8:30.

FIRST AID BANDAGE BECOMES CHIC ACCESSORY

Left, side sash and turban made of striped bandannas; top right, polka dot triangles used as cravat and head band; below, scarfs tied in collar effect and slack-pouch.

The latest accessory news is the triangular bandage found most useful in first aid courses. A designer has taken the bandanna and made it do double duty, as a scarf and emergency bandage. It is the exact size of the regulation triangle, so can be whipped off to be used as first aid in case of emergency, since bandages are never "applied directly to wounds." In the first picture, left, striped bandannas are worn with slacks and shirt, one draped as a side sash, the other as a turban with long ends tied in a perky, stand-up bow. At top right, the polka dot version is draped as a cravat folded head band, and the matching one as a scarf collar with a tailored dress. Below, a striped scarf is tied in a casual collar effect, and a matching one is folded into a slack-pouch.

Goshen Students Depart For Trip

DAMASCUS, May 25.—The Seniors and Juniors of the Goshen High school departed this morning on their trip to Washington, D. C. Supt. and Mrs. C. G. Long, Mr. and Mrs. John Rayburn and Misses Dorothy Patton and Adrienne Spahn accompanied the group. The Alumni banquet will be held in the High school auditorium the evening of June 5.

tions or the guidance of local boards, without providing automatic deferments for any class. Thus a wealthy man with four children would not necessarily be excused from service, while a man with an invalid wife but no children probably would be.

Urge Compulsory Insurance

Johnson predicted the committee also would accept a provision written into the bill placing the issuance of war risk insurance on a compulsory basis. Under terms of the amendment, policies would be issued to all men in the armed service.

The cost to a private for this insurance, Johnson said, would be $6.37 a month, to be deducted from his pay. This would be in addition to deductions that would be made for maintenance of his family if the pending bill passes congress.

These deductions would cut into the prospective $42 monthly pay for privates, on which a joint senate-house conference committee agreed Saturday.

If the family allowance bill becomes law, $22 would be deducted monthly from the enlisted man's pay and would be added to a $28 contribution by the government to provide his wife with $50 monthly living expenses. The government would pay $12 monthly toward the support of one child and $10 monthly for each additional child.

House action was scheduled this week on both the pay and family allowance bills, the latter without the proposed classification amendment under discussion by the senate committee.

VETERAN LISBON CARRIER RETIRES

LISBON, May 25.—Ray D. Thomson, veteran rural mail carrier out of the Lisbon postoffice, will retire from the service tomorrow, after 12 years on Route No. 7, and continue for two weeks five nights each week.

Thomson was appointed as a rural carrier in November, 1922, after serving as a substitute for one year. He first carried the mail for 12 years on Route No. 7, and later, when routes were revised and consolidated, he was given an additional 19 miles. Since then he has traversed 41 miles daily, much of which is in a horse and buggy.

Thomson, who is 65, and a Spanish-American war veteran, states he is retiring in favor of a younger man, and expects to devote all of his time now to the management of his 70-acre farm, two miles west of Lisbon on the Old State road. Thomson moved here with his family from Midland, Pa., where he had worked in a steel mill for 20 years, and had taught school prior to that for five years.

He served for six months in the war with Spain, and has two sons in the armed forces of the United States at present, Vernon, who is located in the Panama Canal zone, and Charles, a radio technician, now in Texas.

Have Your Auto Checked If You're Planning Outing

Have Matt Klein Look At Wheels, Particularly, For Both Safety and Tire-Saving Purposes

Regardless of all the stories we read about gas rationing in the near future it is reasonably certain that not take place in time to interfere with the two glorious days many are planning this weekend. But to enjoy these days you must have your car in the pink of condition and if you have not had it from end inspected for faulty alignment you are inviting trouble. Tires out of line even a fraction of an inch will cause hard steering and worse yet, wear those precious tires away at a rate that's hard to believe. Yet it's a proven fact. Wheels out of balance produce the same results, usually making cups of the tread of the tire.

Matt Klein's specialized shop conditions are soon corrected the use of special equipment so that you simply drive your car upon a rack where gauges soon show the exact condition of the alignment. These readings are then compared with the charts which show the correct readings for the particular model and make of car being checked.

Where Paris Cleaners Store Furs

This gives you some idea of what the interior of the fur storage vault at the Paris Cleaners, on Benton road, looks like. It's a room built from solid masonry especially for the purpose, from plans that have proved the most successful. With complete control of the humidity, the temperature and gas-tight for fumigation, furs stored here will keep their original beauty and serviceability for years to come. A visit to the plant at this time of the year would be most interesting. Hundreds of garments fill the room in tiers three garments high, thousands of dollars worth, but every one is insured by a policy that does protect and they are back of a regular vault safe door.

TIME'S FAVORABLE FOR PLANT GROWTH

Transplanting of Trees and Shrubs Is Advised Now

This spring has been unusually favorable for transplanting any variety of tree or shrub. The rains have kept the ground well soaked, and there have not been many hot days to sap the moisture from the leaves faster than the root system could furnish the new growth with its life blood.

There will not be many more days that you can expect Mother Nature to furnish everything for you. Soon it will be necessary to care for the newly transplanted stock yourself, and the longer you put off having your landscape done the more work you are going to have to do to keep them growing.

You know, or should, that sprinkling will not do, you have to really soak the ground and this takes time, a lot of it, and just because most people will not attend to this important feature when it should be done, every time, is why late transplanted trees and flowering shrubs often do not do well or actually die.

Cope Bros and Fultz, local nurserymen on the Depot road, will tell you just what you can safely transplant right now, just what you will have to do to be certain of excellent growth or they will arrange with you to do the work. As much as they wish to sell nursery stock they will not encourage you to purchase stock they know will only disappoint.

You will enjoy conferring with them. Their years of knowledge, with hundreds of plants, trees and shrubs, is at your command at any time by simply asking for it. This being true, why guess at the proper solution to any such matter and remember, you are always welcome at the Cope Nursery.

LAKE PLACENTIA FINE PICNIC SITE

Offers Many Advantages For Coming Holiday Weekend

Memorial day being Saturday, many are planning a real vacation, one where they can relax and yet have a full two days pleasure. In making your plans, the Lake Placencia Park company suggests that you consider the many advantages the park can offer.

Beyond a doubt, nowhere could you find a more beautiful spot just to rest. There are many spots where the shade is dense, but if you prefer loads of sunshine you can rent a boat and enjoy your fill.

Swimming will attract many. The water is fresh and pure. Life guards make it safe for the youngsters to use the slides and low diving boards and if you are an experienced swimmer all the thrills of the high diving boards will please you.

Everything For Picnics

Picnic parties will find every convenience, including a large shelter house, just in case the weather is unfavorable and there are many smaller tables scattered throughout the grounds beneath the large and beautiful trees.

There's a well on the picnic grounds and every kind of soft drink is available, as well as beer at the store. Even most groceries and many picnic meats can be bought. In fact, you can picnic at Lake Placencia and not have to bother about packing the food. Simply leave your order at the store and it will be ready for you right on time.

Baseball is always a feature and is enjoyed by hundreds of real sportsmen throughout the season. The Lake Placencia ball club is much above the average. For years it has won more than its share of the games, playing teams that make the head lines. In fact, there is more rivalry at any game there than you would see at most major league games.

Lake Placencia has become more popular each year as it is attested to by the fact that now there are over 50 cottages built around the lake, many of them year-around homes. Lots are still available and very desirable ones can be bought on the monthly payment basis. Should you wish to investigate further simply ask at the store for Mr. Crist, the manager, and he will explain everything in detail.

The fishing privileges are reserved for the lot owners exclusively, and it's interesting to talk with any of these lucky persons. The lake is stocked with bass, croppies and monster cat fish. The stories they tell you will make you wonder, but upon investigation you will come to the conclusion this lake is indeed a fisherman's paradise.

Straightening Wheels Is Easy Here

Pictured is Matt Klein at the press where, with the advantage of hundreds of dies, he can straighten any automobile wheel. Wheels that have been bent from any sort of accident sometimes appear hopeless but Mr. Klein can straighten them so they are as perfect as when they came with the car. It would be impossible without the dies and the pressure he can produce with this sort of equipment.

PARIS FUR VAULT MEETS STANDARDS

Storage Conditions Provide All Requirements of Protection

L. C. Price, proprietor of the Paris Cleaners on Benton road, where Ohio's most modern fur storage vault has been built, states that anyone with furs to store should know where the garments they prize so much are stored.

He says that many so-called vaults are nothing more than a room partitioned off in a basement or attic space of some store or an outbuilding of very questionable construction and yet referred to as storage vaults. Sure, such rooms can be fumigated to protect from moths; in fact some even spray the garments and seal them in paper bags but any such method would be far from safe for the furs and, unless the temperature and humidity can be controlled, actually harmful to the furs.

No manufacturer or high class furrier would even consider such methods. A fur storage vault that really protects the garment has to be of concrete or some masonry construction such as the 18-inch walls that make up the new vault at the Paris Cleaners, with equipment that maintains a temperature of not over 50 degrees and a humidity that is proper to keep the pelts of the garment from becoming dried out, which is the usual cause of the fur shedding.

Overcoming moths is easy under such conditions where each garment hangs on its own hanger in fresh air that is constantly being changed by the air-conditioning equipment plus regular gas moth-fumigating periods.

To really know the difference, anyone should see for themselves where their furs are kept and how. The Paris Cleaners invites you to inspect their vault.

JUST PHONE CALL IS ALL YOU NEED

Tell Them What You Need. They'll Handle the Order, Expertly

Saturday is Memorial day and if you have not already made your plans for floral decorations the advice and suggestions of Endres and Gross, florists, at State st. and Penn ave., are invaluable.

Not only do they sell all desirable flowering and bedding plants but they also look after the planting at the cemetery.

The ability to serve based upon the firm's knowledge of its business, is of particular value in the purchase of flowers for such occasions as Memorial day. Just anything won't do for this. The flowers, plans or whatever the customer has in mind, must fit the occasion.

The management at Endres and Gross feels there is much more than a sale involved when an order is placed. Their reputation is at stake when you leave all arrangements to their judgment. They must do more than please you and this they have done, for otherwise their business would not have grown year by year.

It is not necessary to visit the store personally, if you're busy. Just a telephone call to 4400, to let them know what you have in mind and they'll do the rest.

If you have not made your Memorial day arrangements yet, act now and be sure of prompt service.

CONSERVE FOOD FOR VICTORY

In wartime, the problem of providing food for a vigorous, fighting nation is of vital importance. You can help by conserving food scientifically in your own home. Ice refrigeration helps you to avoid waste, to release more food for America's fighting forces. It enables you to take advantage of many thrifty market specials, and buy food in larger money-saving quantities. For ice provides moisture to keep foods from drying out, and prevents the exchange of flavors! This protection is found only in a modern ice refrigerator. Use ice to conserve food for America, power and electricity for America's war machine.

Cleveland East Tech Wins Third Consecutive Track Meet

JACKSON SETS NEW MARK IN HURDLES; XENIA 'B' WINNER

Springfield Takes Second In "A" Event With 17 Point Total

BY FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, May 25.—Ohio's high school track and field crowds rested jauntily on familiar brows today, but the baseball, golf and tennis titles were scattered among new victors.

Cleveland East Tech's Carpenters grabbed the Class A cinder laurels for the third straight time in Saturday's 35th annual spring sports carnival, while the Cadets of Xenia's O. S. & S. O. home did the same in Class B.

And the chances are that the two schools will have the titles for some time, for Saturday's meet probably was the last until the war ends.

While the Xenians and the Clevelanders were copping the coveted cinder laurels, the baseball championships were going to Tiltonsville in Class A and Reading in Class B. Sylvania copped the golf team title after a playoff with North College Hill of Cincinnati; Hamilton's John Zoller annexed the individual golf championship with a neat 136 for 36 holes; Bob Bowen and Ken Kadar won the doubles tennis championship, and the singles went to Norman Appel of Cincinnati Hughes, member of the 1941 doubles victors.

War Holds Up Trophies
Not one of the athletes had anything to show for his victory, except some newspaper clippings, for all trophies and medals were held up by war production demands and probably will not be available until late next month.

Cleveland East Tech, in winning the track crown in Class A, rolled up 40 points with six first places and one second—for ahead of the 22 total with which the Carpenters tied Cleveland Heights for the laurels in 1941. The Xenia Cadets, winners in '41 with 27 3-5 points, boosted their total to 29 1-2.

Springfield finished second in Class A with 17, while Plainville was the Class B runner-up with 20 1-2.

Wilmer Jackson, Cleveland East Tech's classy hurdler, set the only record of the meet, a 14.6 effort in the high hurdles.

Jackson, winner of both hurdles events, was the Class A individual star, while the B honors went to Matt Coker of the Shagrin Falls Orange, winner of the shot and discus, and Kenny Pitzer of the winning Xenia squad, who copped the pole vault, won second in the discus, and fourth in the shot.

FALCONER, N. Y.—A plan designed to keep Falconer high school students from enlisting has been started by the Henry Mosher American Legion Post. The Legionnaires are conducting weekly classes in military fundamentals for war-minded youths.

TRIBE ENTERTAINS CHISOX AT RELIEF TILT; DEAN HURLS

Bill Dietrich Nominated By Dykes; Sellout Crowd Expected

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, May 25.—Everyone who headed for League park today—players, umpires, sports writers, firemen and club owners as well as the fans—did the pitching, with the army and navy relief funds on the receiving end for every cent.

It was a regularly scheduled game between the Indians and the White Sox, with a 4:30 p. m. starting time. The town's civic organizations were pulling for a sell-out of the 30,000 seats in one of the American league's eight service games. Chubby Dean trying for his fourth straight win and the Sox' bespectacled Bill Dietrich were the pitching choices.

The Indians considered themselves the favorites over the tail-end Chicagoans, but the Tribe still had a hangover from losing a three-game series to the St. Louis Browns in less than 24 hours over the weekend.

Yesterday's double defeat, 3 to 2 and 4 to 1, dropped the Redskins to two and one-half games behind the loop-leading Yankees.

Two Errors Hurt
In the first game, Al Smith out-pitched Elden Auker, and had a 2 to 0 lead going into the fifth. But in that inning, two errors by Ken Keltner on successive plays let Vern Stephens and Bob Swift score, and in the next inning Stephens' single drove in George McQuinn, who had bent out a punt, with the deciding run.

Denny Galehouse, a former Cleveland hurler, gained a victory over Al Milnar in the second. Errors again played their part. Three singles gave Cleveland a one-run lead in the first, but the Browns tied it in the second when Chet Laabs tripled and scored as Manager Lou Boudreau fumbled Stephens' grounder, then threw wild to first.

The Browns tallied twice in the fifth to put the game on ice. Stephens singled and scored when Milnar fielded Rick Ferrell's bunt and threw it into right field. Galehouse's single then brought in Ferrell.

LAKERS' COP THIRD STRAIGHT WIN, 5-2

Backing up seven-hit pitching of Earl Branfield with a 13 hit attack the Lake Placencia nines racked up their third consecutive win as it downed the Cuyahoga Falls Moose, 5-2, on the Lakers' diamond yesterday.

The Lakers broke the ice, tallying in the first on four straight singles by Miller, Tich, Hrovatic and Ted Schwartzoff. They tallied again in the second as Johnny Schwartzoff worked pitcher Thomas for a walk, advanced on an infield out and crossed the plate on Miller's second hit.

Hrovatic and T. Schwartzoff walked to open the third and Paul Stratton singled, scoring Hrovatic. Dawson then hit into a fast double play and J. Schwartzoff smashed a single to score two more runs and sew up the game.

Cuyahoga bunched two hits to garner two runs in a sixth inning spree. Simpson led off with a one base knock and went to second when Garcia drew one of the two bases on balls given up by Branfield. Both advanced a minute later on a wild pitch and scored when Lang singled to center field.

The Lakers wound up the scoring in the seventh when Hrovatic singled, stole second and scored on Stratton's second hit of the game. Branfield held the whip hand all the way as he throttled the Cuyahogans with seven hits while whiffing eight batters and passing only two. Thomas struck out nine men and walked two but was touched for 13 hits by the Placencia sluggers.

Next Saturday, Memorial day, the Lakers have a double bill slated with the Cleveland ABC nine while on the following day, they will meet the Akron Sohios.

MICKEY OWEN, BROOKLYN CATCHER, MAKING UP FOR HIS WORLD'S SERIES BOMBER OF LAST FALL WITH A SUPER BRAND OF PLAY THIS YEAR.

CANTON CLUB FIRST VICTIM OF BLUE SOX

The Salem Blue Sox pounded out 17 safeties as they trimmed the Canton Weaver Taverns, 13-10 in a wild game at Centennial park yesterday for their initial win of the 1942 campaign.

The Weavers scored first as they drove across two tallies in the initial frame but kept ahead only until the last of the second when the Blue Sox led off on the offerings of pitcher James of the Canton club to score eight runs.

The local nine kept right on swinging to add three runs to their growing total in the third and two more in the fifth. Holding a 13-2 edge on their rivals, the Blue Sox suffered a little letdown at the plate and in the field, thinking the game already won.

The Weaver Taverns began to blast Wukotich's slants to all corners of the field as they chased across two in the sixth, three in the seventh, two in the eighth and one in the ninth to give the Blue Sox a bad scare. In the middle of all this, Wukotich retired from the game in favor of Herman Allison.

At Caticos, Paul Wukotich and Danny Kenst paced the Blue Sox clubbers with three safeties apiece while "Buster" Wukotich and Julius "Thunder" Kovach added two each to the locals' total. Bango punched out three blows to pace the Weavers. The win evned up the series between the two clubs, the Weavers having won the first tilt played in Canton two weeks ago.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The "mosquito" boat, officially known as the motor torpedo boat, has given a good account of itself in this war against the Axis. These boats are an important adjunct to our two-ocean navy. They achieve a speed of 50 to 60 miles an hour.

Gen. MacArthur used these boats in his dash from the Philippines to Australia. These little speed demons cost money, about $195,000 each. But you and your neighbor and your friends, each buying War Bonds at $18.75 each will build up a total to buy them. Buy War Bonds every pay day. Top the quota in your county.

Keeps Fit by Skating

Recreation is something of a problem to the wives whose husbands work in America's defense plants. So pretty Mrs. Norman Wood keeps fit by roller-skating at a Hollywood, Cal., rink. She's a member of the Aircraft Women's Club which holds regular classes in first aid and nutrition, along with lectures on current events.

PAIGE TOPS DEAN'S ALL-STARS BY 3-1

CHICAGO, May 25.—Dizzy Dean still has plenty of crowd appeal and enough strength left in his officially retired right arm to sign at least a couple hundred autographs and pitch one inning of ball.

Dean returned to Wrigley field as manager of an all-star team yesterday, opening the game on the mound against Satchel Paige and a Negro aggregation of Kansas City Monarchs. The former Cub and Cardinal hurler fired over some curves and several whiskered fast balls to set down the first three batters to face him without a hit. Then he turned the chores over to John Grodzicki of Fort Knox, Ky., former Columbus pitcher in the American association.

Dean spent the rest of the game in the coaching boxes while the Monarchs belted out a 3-1 decision. But Ol' Dizzy got most of the plaudits from the 29,775 fans.

Bob Feller, former Cleveland speedballer who was to take over for Dean, sent a telegram announcing that the navy's bureau of personnel ordered his immediate return to Newport, R. I., for active duty.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Wonder what ever became of that golf blackout that was heading this way a couple of months ago. . . . When they cancelled the open and the amateur, it looked as if the game was all through for the duration, but here's the P. G. A. starting big as ever at Atlantic City today and more guys playing in the Hale America tournament than ever entered any other event. . . . Don't let P. G. A. dope. . . . He's a longshot to repeat because he hasn't had much practice, but when he and Sgt. Pat Mucci won the New Jersey pro-amateur title last week, Vic had nine birdies on the last day. . . . Here's a new angle on minor league baseball troubles from a guy who often has the right dope. . . . He thinks night baseball may be banned in cities close to army camps as well as along the coast and figures the Sally and Southeastern leagues won't last out the season.

Today's Guest Star

John Mooney, Salt Lake Telegram: "It may be that the Boston Braves will be the goats of National league this year, but from the way Fernandez is hitting, it's a cinch no one has got their Nanny to date."

Monday Matinee

Al Weiss, who says he predicted correctly that Lou Ambers and Joey Archibald would become champions but doesn't mention how many incorrect predictions he has made) now forecasts a title for his new lightweight, Jimmy Hatcher, who takes on Pete Scalzo in New Orleans tonight. . . . Ezzard Charles, the Cincinnati kid, will have to rush home after to night's scrap with Charley Burley at Pittsburgh for his high school graduation exercises. . . . When Paul Waner draws his 36th walk this season, he'll join Mel Ott among the major leaguers who have had 1,000 passes to first. He's also close to the 3,000 hit mark.

Bits of Sport

MODESTO, Calif. — Cornelius Warner set unofficial world pole vault record by clearing 15 feet 7 1/2 inches at North California Relays. It added 1/2 inch to his own outdoor mark and a half inch to his best indoor effort.

New York—Alsab won second major race of 1942 season by beating Odus IV in 1:36 1-5 for victory in ancient Withers mile. With other top flight horses scratched because of leg injuries, second place went to Lochinvair and third to Fairaris. New York one-day betting record of $1,933,493 established.

Durham, N. C.—Majority of minor league teams along southern half of eastern seaboard instructed by army to turn off lights in baseball parks at 9:15 p. m. as protection for coastwise shipping.

Washington — Mickey Cochrane, who piloted Detroit Tigers to World Series and who now is lieutenant in U. S. Navy, named manager of all-star service team which will oppose major league squad in charity game at Cleveland on July 7.

Bethlehem, Pa.—George W. Hoban of Baltimore, star halfback on Lehigh football teams 30 years ago, named head football coach by his alma mater, succeeding the resigned Glen Harmeson.

Derby, Conn. — Harvard covered two-mile course in Housatonic river in 10:09 2-5 to defeat Yale for seventh straight year in nation's oldest intercollegiate sports event.

BOSTON—A pin bow setting up 45 games each in two bowling alleys for an average night's work lifts the equivalent of one ton 13 feet in the air, according to a Massachusetts State College statistician.

National League Race Grows Hot As Redlegs Pin Double Defeat On St. Louis Cards

(By Associated Press)

If you're one of those skeptical citizens who figured the Cincinnati Reds were in for a rough summer because their pitching had gone to pot, you'd better get ready to change your outlook, which is exactly what the Reds are doing.

With seventh place in the National league staring them in the face, the Reds called on Johnny Vander Meer and Ray Starr for the bit of huling against the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday and what that pair did to the pre-season favorites was enough to make future opponents shudder.

Vander Meer tossed a five-hitter in the opening game and singled in the deciding run for a 3-2 decision. Then Starr blanked the Red Birds on three hits for a 2-0 win in the nightcap.

The double triumph knocked the Cards out of second place and hoisted Cincinnati into the thick of a battle royal that now finds five teams clustered within three games of the runnerup spot. The Reds are in sixth place.

The upset at St. Louis wasn't the only surprise of yesterday's major league program.

The New York Yankees lost a 9-8 verdict to the Washington Senators but added half a game to their American league lead because the St. Louis Browns swept a doubleheader from the second-place Cleveland Indians by scores of 3 to 2 and 4 to 1.

Redsox, A's Divide
The Boston Red Sox finally beat the Philadelphia Athletics, after dropping the first game of the afternoon, but slipped into fourth place in the American league as the Detroit Tigers whipped the Chicago White Sox twice and took over third place.

The Boston Braves divided their bargain with the Philadelphia Phils. The Phils won the first game 3-2 in 11 innings; Boston the second 6-3. The Chicago Cubs surprised everybody, including themselves, by pinning a double defeat on the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-5 and 11-4.

The Detroit Tigers collected a total of 25 hits in crushing the White Sox, 6-2 and 14-0. Rudy York tied an American league record by scoring five runs in as many times at bat.

Manager Joe Cronin returned to the Red Sox lineup and drove in two runs, one a homer, as Boston downed the Athletics, 6-5, in the second game after losing the first by the same score.

While all that was going on, the Brooklyn Dodgers—apparently tired of losing at the Polo Grounds—banded the New York Giants their first shutout of the year, 6-0, to salvage the final game of the series and snap a three-game losing streak.

'Blue Heaven' Wins 300-Mile Bird Race
"Blue Heaven," flying to the left of C. W. Cozad, won the 300 mile pigeon race from Indianapolis Sunday with a speed of 193.71 yards per minute or slightly better than 35 miles an hour. Strong north-west winds and a driving rain made the race a tough one for the birds.

"Odus IV," owned by Otis Brian, copped second place while Heimie Kaeppler's "Old Dutch" flew in third. The next race will be flown from the same station next Sunday. The birds will be shipped to Indianapolis Saturday afternoon.

Bird	Owner	Yds Per Min.
"Blue Heaven"	C. W. Cozad	193.71
"Odus IV"	Otis Brian	191.53
"Old Dutch"	Heimie Kaeppler	197.92
"Old Dutch"	Lacher	187.32

even be moved into such ports without specific permission from a special transportation control committee representing the army, navy, ODT, and the British transport ministry.

The order is designed to prevent port congestion and delay such as that which hampered overseas shipping during the first World War.

Meanwhile, WPB is carefully studying proposals for strict controls of wholesalers and retailers' inventories and specific limitations on stocks of all types of merchandise held for sale. Current heavy buying by some is preventing others from obtaining enough goods to meet the needs of their communities, and the government intends to assure equitable distribution. Proposed remedy is an overall dollar limitation of inventories.

STILLWELL SAFE, WANTS TO RETURN

Says Lack of Equipment Helped In Defeat By Nipponese

"They used to send over 40 to 50 planes daily and we couldn't retaliate because we didn't even have an anti-aircraft gun," he said.

The Chinese soldier is a damned good soldier when "properly fed," Stilwell asserted. "There are a hell of a lot of troops in China and I think a lot can be done with them."

He said the Flying Tigers of the American Volunteer Group, still in China, would be strengthened considerably in men and equipment and inducted into the U. S. air force July 4 as a pursuit group.

As for India, Stilwell thinks rains coming soon will hamper any Japanese try at an overland thrust, not only because of difficulties in transport but also because of malaria and other diseases.

In his view, the rains should halt the enemy on land until the dry season in November.

Stilwell looked remarkably fit after the 30-day ordeal. Nineteen Burmese nurses were in the group of 104 that made the trip. These included Americans, Britons, Burmese, Chinese, Indians and Anglo-Indians.

ward bases in China for a direct offensive against Japan by the United Nations. The Japanese offensive also bore the earmarks of an all-out attempt to force the Chungking government to its knees.

Japan's strategical position was improved tremendously by the success in Burma. The Chinese back door through which supplies moved to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek forces.

In the Australian theater, long-range air duel between the Japanese in their island bases facing Australia and the north and American-Australian airmen continued over the weekend.

On Saturday the Allies bombed Ambolia in the Dutch East Indies—a 1,300-mile roundtrip—and others by luck or suicide a Japanese plane, winged by anti-aircraft fire, struck an Allied vessel amidships, several hundred miles off Australia, and set her afire.

An Allied destroyer administered the coup de grace with its guns after removing 100 survivors, many injured.

Lisbon Churches Unite For Memorial Exercises

LISBON, May 25. Patriotic bodies, including the American Legion and Auxiliary, Spanish-American war veterans and the Women's Relief corps, joined in a union memorial service of the Lisbon churches in the Presbyterian church last evening.

Rev. R. T. Campbell, pastor of the Methodist church, spoke on "The Meaning of Memorial Day" with reference to the past and the present, and with a "pledge to the future as we honor the memories of those who have made the supreme sacrifice."

Asks Vote for Soldiers

AKRON, May 25.—The War Veterans' Republican club of Ohio asked Secretary of State John E. Sweet to enable Ohio soldiers in all parts of the world to vote in this year's election.

Such an action is feasible with today's modern communication and transportation facilities, the organization asserted in a resolution at its annual convention yesterday. The group elected Albert B. Gies of Columbus president. Other officers include Waite W. Carlisle of Newark, vice president.

That's Not All of It

SAN DIEGO, Calif., May 25. America may expect with confidence that Brig. Gen. James Doolittle's April 18 air attack on Japan will not remain an isolated incident but will be amplified repeatedly by vigorous assaults upon the very heart of Axis counties.

This assurance came directly from Doolittle, who was here yesterday on an inspection tour with Gen. George Marshall, army chief of staff, and other military leaders.
